Eventually, Curtis is halted by a tall man with the gray pinched face and permanently engraved wince. "No offense intended." Wellesley shook his head firmly. "Not if you, re talking about roughing up people in the streets. It would undo everything we've achieved." "I don't like the idea of a limited military presence down there," Bortlein said. "We're trusting the Chironians too much. I still say they could have strength that they're not showing yet. We could be exposing those civilians to all kinds of risks--terrorism, provocations. What if they get hit by surprise? I've seen it all before." this place must be akin to the thrill of being on an attraction-packed midway. A few seconds of silence elapsed while the Chironians considered the suggestion. Their expressions seemed to say. it couldn't do any harm, but it probably wouldn't change very much. "Is the case strong enough to turn the whole Army round in a moment?" Kath asked doubtfully at last. "We have no proof about Padawski and the bombings. What you've said about Howard Kalens might result in some debate, but would it have sufficient impact on its own to convince enough people of how insane Stern really is? Now, if we could prove all the incidents, all at the same lime-" "Never say you don't get anything back for your taxes." Colman was sitting next to her, grinning faintly in the brief glow as one of the others lit a cigarette. But she had gone for so much of the day without speaking that she was unable to answer immediately. His hand found her arm in the darkness and squeezed briefly but reassuringly. "It'll be okay," he murmured. "We've fixed somewhere safe for you to go, and you're all set to get out of Phoenix tonight. I'll be coming with you into Franklin?'. weary in body, mind, and spirit.
