sources of support, and since his interests had put him on close terms with most of the Mission's scientific professionals, they were near the top of his list of likely recruits. Among them was Jerry Pernak, whose researches Lechat had been following with interest for several years. Accordingly, Lechat invited Pernak and Eve Verity to dinner with him one evening in the Françoise, a restaurant in the Columbia District frequented mainly by political and media people, and explained his situation. The dog's Hanks shudder, striking sympathetic shivers in the boy. Punctuating its panting are pitiful. "How's it coming along?" Pernak asked. He couldn't remember exactly when his fascination with them had started, but it had been soon after Swley, then a fellow private, had taught him to shuffle four aces to the top of a deck and feed them into a deal from the pall. Finding to his surprise that he seemed to have an aptitude, Driscoll had borrowed a leaf from Colman's book and started reading up about the subject. For many long off duty hours he had practiced top-pass palms and one-handed side-cuts until he could materialize three full fans from an. Mrs. Crayford glanced at the dock display on the room's companel. "Well then, I really must be getting along. I did so enjoy the trip and the company. We must do it again soon." She heaved herself to her feet and looked around. "Now, where did I leave my coat?" "You're getting it all wrong," Nanook said, smiling faintly to be reassuring. "It's not So bad. Things like that don't happen all the time--in fact, hardly ever. Just sometimes. . ." "Yes, I was about to come to that," Sirocco replied. He lifted his head a fraction to address the whole room again. "As Velarini says, they could come in through the Battle Module and the nose. The Battle Module is the main problem. It's bound to be the most strongly defended section anywhere, and there's only one way through to it from the rest of the ship. Therefore we assault it directly only if all else fails. We've put Steve up near the nose of the Spindle with the strongest section to block that access route. Steve's whimpers of fear, but the boy dares not surrender to his desire to sit in the lane beside the dog and cry in. Colman grinned and stroked her hair. "You're right. So what do you want to hear about?" "of a tire iron. full of fresh coffee, ready to hit the road again." "Heavens, no, dear. We emptied the register and all but thanked him for sparing us the trouble of paying. The kit was a deluxe model, similar to any fisherman's plastic tackle box with a clamshell lid. Dr. Doom. "Not yet. I have to make contact first." precise in their details and of such explicit depth that she turned away from them in revulsion or in anger, he crouches motionless until he is sure that the noise has drawn no one's attention. among the big rigs. Hanlon detached himself from a group and sauntered over to Colman, Celia, and Lechat. Things had been so hectic that an opportunity for a few quick words with them had not presented itself since Colman's return. "Well, I see there's no need to ask how things went on your side, Steve. I take it that Veronica's in safe hands now." "Who tells you what to do?" "It depends." "On what?" "Oh, yes. I should have thought of that." Lurch about-faced and lurched back to the kitchen. The sound of a door. inside. They grin at him, complete with pink gums, but purged of blood. my business, and you'd hustle me back to my own yard." Celia sat and looked at the boxes, and wondered what it was about the whole business that upset her. It wasn't so much the spectacle of Mrs. Crayford's mindless parading of an affluence that now meant nothing, she was sure, since she had known the woman for enough years to have expected as much. Surely it couldn't be because she herself had succumbed to the same temptation, for that had been a comparatively minor thing--a single, not very large, sculpture, and not one that had included any precious metals or rare stones. She turned her head to gaze at the piece again--she had placed it in the recess by the corner window--the heads of three children, two boys and a girl, of perhaps ten or twelve, staring upward as if at something terrifying but distant a threat perceived but not yet threatening. But as well as the apprehension in their eyes, the artist had captured a subtle suggestion of serenity and courage that was anything but childlike, and had combined it with the smoothness of the faces to yield a strange wistfulness that was both captivating and haunting. The piece was fifteen years old, the dealer h3 Franklin had told them, and had been made by one of the Founders. Celia suspected that the dealer may have been the artist, but he hadn't reacted to her oblique questions on the subject. Were the expressions on those faces affecting her for some reason? Or did the artist's skill in working the grain around the highlights to simulate illumination from above cause Celia to feel that she had debased a true artistic accomplishment by allowing it to be included alongside the others as just another item to be snatched at greedily and gloated over? "Do you figure they might start trouble, chief?" Stanislaw asked, turning his head toward Sirocco. The roar of the long barrage has left his ears ringing. Yet in the aftermath, Curtis is able to hear people. Feet thump up the entry stairs, and the floorboards creak under new weight. Lamps come on in the. out of the booth and rose to his feet. But no Borftein was present to save the situation at the side entrance. "I don't know anything about it," the SD Officer of the Day said from the screen in reply to the call the guard there had put through. "Those orders are incorrect. Detain those men." The guard on duty at the desk produced a pistol and trained it on Maddock, who was standing where he had been stopped ten feet back with Harding and Merringer. In the same instant the two SD's standing farther back covered them with automatic rifles. "Bret's an unarmed-combat instructor with the Army," Tim explained. "Laughing at what?" natural-foods phase that stretched the definition of natural to include things like chocolate-covered ants, that have real issues to resolve." Celia sank back into her seat and closed her eyes with a nod and a sigh of relief.
