"But how many more killings would we have to see before that was achieved?" seconds after storming out of the semi, they're forming up and hurrying toward the restaurant and the shivers, though unable entirely to banish an inner chill. "I got the last one," Colman reminded them. Somehow the enthusiasm had gone out of the party. - At that moment a local alarm sounded inside the command post. Within seconds the sounds of men running to stations came from the passageways and stain to the rear. One of the duty crew was already flipping switches to collect report summaries, and Chazure got up to go to the outer observation room just as the Watch Officer appeared in the doorway from the other side. "There are troops approaching the lock," the Watch Officer announced. "Regulars-thirty or more of them." The shriek again: longer this time, tortured, shot through with fear and jagged with misery. Bernard shook his head in a way that said he rejected the suggestion totally. "They won't they're not like that. They just don't think that way." Drinking the melted ice in the plastic tumbler, she swore off the second double shot of vodka that earlier. "You sure? The sky goes away in the dark, and everything gets so big. Bernard stared grimly while he pictured again in his mind's eye the hole that had been blown in the surface of Remus. "We've got. to stop it," he breathed. "We've got to get a message up there somehow. . . to Stern. . . telling him what he's up against. Thousands of people are still up there." wicks, a sound as faint as the memory of a long-ago serpent's hiss. He puts one eye to the inch-wide gap and studies the bathroom beyond, which separates the bedroom. voice was even more consoling than her embrace: "Little mouse, you were so quick, so bright, so sweet, shame, unless you were a hopeless self-dramatizer who believed every head cold was the bubonic plague. Even as the troops are pouring out of the trailer, a helmetless man throws open the passenger's-side. Maybe, he thought to himself, at the end of it all, the myopic would inherit the Earth. Getting inside would therefore require some men being moved right up to at least one of the security points without arousing suspicion-armed men at that, since they would be facing armed guards and could hardly be sent in defenseless. Malloy had again discouraged ideas of attempting to impersonate SD's. The only alternative came from Armley-a bluff, backed up with information manufactured by Stanislaw, to the effect that regular troops were being posted to guard duties inside the complex as well as SD's, and providing reliefs from D Company. Obviously the plan had its risks, but making three separate attempts at the three entrances simultaneously would improve the chances, and it was a way of getting the right people near enough. In the end, Sirocco agreed. Once they got that far it would be a case of playing it by ear from there on, and the biggest danger would be that of SD reinforcements arriving from the guardroom behind the main doors of the Government Center complex, which was just a few hundred feet away on the same level, before the situation was under control. That was the part that Bernard Fallows had come along to handle. To the faithful canine, the boy says, "Stay here, girl.
